Message from the General Manager

The end of the fiscal year (officially June 30) always offers a time to reflect on the year here at NET, and it's been an especially exciting one, with the completion of the historic switch from analog to digital television. I am very pleased with the transition and the role NET played in assisting Nebraskans through this challenging period. Time and time again during this last year I heard from viewers and broadcasting professionals who turned to the NET Help Desk, our DTV Web site and other resources for information and guidance during the transition.

We certainly had a lot at stake – each week more than one million Nebraskans tune in to NET Television. Add to that the 109,000 who listen to NET Radio, and it's evident that Nebraska public broadcasting makes a big impact on the state. While the numbers are important, of course, it's what Nebraskans say about NET that is the real story. We hear from hundreds of viewers and listeners each year who take the time to tell us via email, telephone or written correspondence about how NET makes a difference in their lives. Take this email, from Duane in Lincoln, who says, "I moved to Lincoln six months ago from Seattle. NET Radio is one of the best stations in the country!" Now that's positive reinforcement!

I eagerly anticipate the next several months, because there is so much more to come. Don't miss Walk Ons: Huskers' Edge, Nebraska Stories and Recipe Box on NET Television, and countless hours of inspiring classical music and informative news on NET Radio. Thank you for your support in helping to make these and other programs possible. Together, let's Inspire Nebraska!

Sincerely,

Rod Bates
General Manager

In the News

Social networking is certainly the "in thing" these days, and NET isn't one to be left behind. NET Radio has more than 500 fans on Facebook, and you could become one, too. Enjoy interesting updates and features and meet other public radio fans. Visit netNebraska.org/radio and click on the Facebook link for details. You'll find NET Television on YouTube, iTunes and Twitter, too – visit netNebraska.org/television for information.

NET is a proud member of Community Services Fund.

Digging College Volleyball

Don't miss the AVCA (American Volleyball Coaches Association) College Volleyball Showcase from the Qwest Center in Omaha on August 28 and 29. It's Nebraska and Kansas State vs. Michigan and Minnesota in four games Friday and Saturday – check netNebraska.org/sports or your local listings for broadcast times.

For the first time, last year's Showcase was played in a Conference Challenge format, which means that each school plays the two teams from the other conference, and does not play the other school from its own league.

"Our goal with the Showcase is to kick off the volleyball season with elite teams battling in an electric environment," said AVCA Executive Director Kathy DeBoer.

Catch Big 10 vs. Big 12 volleyball action in August on NET Television!

Partnering for Science

NET is collaborating with Omaha Public Schools, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, the University of Nebraska Medical Center, the University of Nebraska State Museum and a team of education researchers on Omaha Science Media, a project that uses media production to enhance Omaha high school teachers' and students' understanding of the field of virology.

This month three NET producers will serve as media mentors in a two-week media and science workshop for Omaha teachers and students. Together the group, along with science advisors and researchers, will create a series of media "learning objects" to help students learn about viruses and scientific processes.

Also in July, an NET production team will travel to Zambia, Africa, to document the work the Nebraska Center for Virology is doing with mothers and children infected with HIV/AIDS. The footage they collect will have multiple uses: as a "learning object" in the Omaha Science Media project; for an information video to be used by the University of Nebraska; and, ultimately as a public television documentary.

Celebrate Parks in Nebraska and the Nation

It was an idea as uniquely American as the Declaration of Independence and just as radical: that the most special places in the nation should be preserved, not for royalty or the rich, but for everyone. And thus, America's best idea – to create a system of national parks – was born.

In late September NET Television will present Ken Burns' newest series, The National Parks: America's Best Idea. Filmed over six years in some of nature's most spectacular locales – from Acadia to Yosemite, Yellowstone to the Grand Canyon, and the Everglades of Florida to the Arctic of Alaska – the documentary not only covers the history of the national parks, it also spotlights the people involved in their preservation: scientists and soldiers, natives and newcomers, idealists, artists and entrepreneurs.

In conjunction with this landmark production, NET Television is partnering with the National Parks Service to present a series of preview screenings during August and September in Scottsbluff, Valentine, Grand Island, Red Cloud and Minden, as well as a day-long event at Homestead National Monument in Beatrice, which will include a preview screening, speakers, exhibits and children's activities.

NET Television will also launch an online Share-Your-Story component. To post a story about your national or state park experiences or memories beginning in August, visit netNebraska.org/nationalparks.

WALK ONS

HUSKERS' EDGE

No one does it like Nebraska.

More than 80,000 fans fill Memorial Stadium in Lincoln each fall, the roar of the crowd rising from a sea of scarlet as the Husker football players burst out of the tunnel and take the field. The team is comprised of young men who come to the University of Nebraska from states across the nation, eager to play for the five-time national championship team. But not every team member has to travel far – some come from tiny towns scattered across Nebraska or from small high schools with just a handful of students. These players proudly “walk on” to the field, many without the benefit of scholarships, simply to fulfill their lifelong dream of playing for Nebraska.

The rise and fall... and rise again

NET Television’s upcoming high-definition documentary, Walk Ons: Huskers’ Edge, tells the story of the University of Nebraska’s football walk-on program, from its start in the early 1960s under the leadership of Bob Devaney and Tom Osborne, to its recent revitalization under Bo Pelini.

Produced by the same team of television professionals who created the Husker Century series and Coach Osborne: More Than Winning, two of NET Television’s most popular and most-watched programs in our history, Walk Ons

“The Husker walk-on experience is about far more than playing time. It is about the people I met. The life lessons I learned. Being a part of something much greater than myself.”

– Former walk-on quarterback, Garth Glissman will be broadcast on NET Television on August 4, at 7 p.m. CT, just prior to the start of the collegiate football season.

Meat and potatoes, heart and soul

Traditionally much of the Huskers’ strength and depth has come from homegrown players, from the Nebraska natives often referred to as the “meat and potatoes” and “heart and soul” of the team. But that hasn’t always been the case. Back in 2003 a new coaching strategy and culture led to a dramatic downsizing of the walk-on program, a decision that was reversed when Tom Osborne returned to take the helm as the University of Nebraska-Lincoln’s Athletic Director in 2007.

Walk Ons explores this history, looks back at Husker walk-on greats like National Championship and NFL player Joel Makovicka, and follows several recent Husker walk-on players as they learn to find their place on the team. Viewers will experience an intimate look at the program and get to know some of today’s young athletes, as well as their families and hometowns, in order to gain a better understanding of why fans and sportscasters alike say that the return of the walk-on program heralds the return of the Huskers’ family spirit.

Coming this Fall to NET Television

Tune in to this series in September for unique and compelling regional stories:

- A portrait of the University of Nebraska's Husker football "Walk-On Program" and one of its most legendary recruits, Langston Coleman.
- New Americans take the oath of citizenship at Nebraska's Homestead National Monument in Beatrice.
- We revisit the Last of the One-Room Schools, a four-part series that documents a year in the life of the Burr Oak School in Custer County, and explores the end of an era in education.
- A look back at the tragic attempt to "civilize" Native Americans in the 1870s, where a young boy is sent away to the Genoa Indian School in Nebraska. He learns the "white man's way" and returns home to discover that he can no longer communicate with his beloved grandparents.
- And a visit deep inside the deciduous canopies of Bellevue's historic Fontenelle Forest, featuring miles of trails, boardwalks and wildlife nestled in a 1400-acre forested conservation area just minutes from the state's largest city.

Read more about Nebraska Stories and watch video clips online at netNebraska.org/nebraskastories.

As Nebraskans we know how to cook...and how to eat – from Czech favorites like Kolaches and classics like Mac and Cheese to quirkier dishes, like Rattlesnake Bryantini and Stone Soup. Combining lively storytelling, great food and engaging characters, NET Television's upcoming one-hour program Recipe Box will explore the culinary heritage of the Cornhusker State. What makes this project unique is that it goes beyond the pure love of food and cooking, and into the realm of community, friends and family to tell the stories and memories entwined with the recipes that define us.

Recipe Box airs in October on NET1/NET-HD. Look for details about the program and accompanying cookbook on netNebraska.org/recipebox.

Get a sneak peek at NET Television's Walk Ons: Huskers' Edge and meet former Husker players and personalities in person at a premiere event on Thursday, July 30, at Marcus Village Pointe Cinema in Omaha. Tickets are $10; showtimes are at 2, 3:30, 5 and 7 p.m. Visit netNebraska.org/members for details.

"This program is about more than just football," says Walk Ons producer Joel Geyer. "It's about the powerful dreams and aspirations of young Nebraska kids, kids from small towns and farms and ranches. And about a team that harnesses the power of those dreams to create a recruiting system like no other. No one does it like Nebraska."

Tune in to Walk Ons: Huskers' Edge, on August 4 at 7 p.m. CT on NET1/NET-HD.

Be sure to tune for the season premiere of the ever-popular Big Red Wrap-Up series on Tuesday, Sept. 1, at 7 p.m. CT on NET1 and NET-HD.

On the Dial

Take to the Road with NET Radio

There's nothing like the freedom and excitement of a summer road trip, so when you hit the highway this summer, don't forget to take NET Radio with you.

Here our classical music announcers tell you a bit about themselves.

Lora Black

Host of Afternoon Concert, Classics By Request and All Things Considered.

Education: Bachelor of Science in Consumer Economics from Peru State College.

Background: I have been active in music all my life, whether singing in church choirs or playing French horn in band, or attending my children's music events. I'm also active in theater and am the current board president of the Third

Chair Chamber Players. I attended a small school in Johnson, where I could participate in everything. . .not just music, but speech, theatre and sports. My education there nurtured my love of literature and reading, which is what eventually led to the readings I do on NET Radio.

Favorite Classical Pieces: The Bach Brandenburg Concertos; the music of Mozart, Vivaldi, Beethoven and Korngold; and some of the newest recordings, like the Yellowstone Concerto and the music of Joseph Curiale and John Williams. "I love sharing music with my audience, and hope that my enthusiasm carries on to them," says Lora.

Graham House

Host of Midday.

Education: Bachelor's Degree in Music from Wichita State University; Master's Degree in Music from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln; and currently working on a doctorate in Musical Arts from UNL.

Background: When I heard that NET was looking for an announcer, I thought, "I could do that!" After all, classical music announcing is in my blood – my father worked at the classical station in Kansas City, KXTR. I enjoy sharing this great body of music that can so enrich our lives. I love to help people understand that this timeless music is not just for the elite, but is an art form that can be experienced and enjoyed universally.

Favorite Classical Pieces: Music of the 19th and early 20th centuries is my favorite era. I'm partial to horn music and brass music in general, and my favorites include everything from Bach to Bartok and from Mozart to Strauss, Wagner and Beethoven.

Genevieve Randall

Host of Nebraska Concerts and The Verge.

Education: Bachelor of Music in Flute Performance from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and an Associate's Degree in Business Administration with an Accounting focus.

Background: I am a classical flutist who performs at recitals, church services and weddings; plays medieval and Renaissance music with the Lincoln Early Music Consort (LEMC); and teaches private lessons. Through LEMC I've also demonstrated early musical instruments for elementary school audiences and other groups. Somehow the combination of teaching, performing and just loving classical music makes being an announcer here the absolute perfect job.

Favorite Classical Pieces:

Symphony No. 4 in E Minor by Johannes Brahms; the Sonata for Flute and Piano by Sergei Prokofiev; Atom Hearts Club Suite, Nos. 1 & 2 by Takashi Yoshimatsu; and "The Birds Will Still Be Singing" from The Juliet Letters by Elvis Costello and the Brodsky String Quartet.

William Stibor

Host of Morning Concert and Friday Live.

Education: Bachelor's Degree in Theater and English from Hastings College and a Master's Degree in English from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Background: I am an active performer and singer, having sung with several groups, including Abendmusik: Lincoln and the Omaha Chamber Singers and as a soloist with the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra and the Nebraska Jazz Orchestra. I am also active with the Lincoln Community Playhouse, and have produced, directed and designed two Tennessee Williams' one-act plays. Two of my favorite theatre roles are Willy Loman in Death of a Salesman and the Singer in Brecht's Caucasian Chalk Circle.

Favorite Classical Composers:

Henry Purcell, for his ability to set the English language to music; Bach for his sense of sonic architecture; and Vaughan Williams, for his ability to synthesize the sensual with the spiritual. Then there's Monteverdi, Handel, Ravel, Britten, Debussy, Faure, Sibelius, Brahms, Schubert, Dvorak, Beethoven, Haydn, Samuel Barber, Morten Lauridsen, Eric Whitacre...it's like being asked to choose your favorite child!

Underwriter Spotlight

The Nebraska Corn Board

As the third-largest corn-producing state in the nation, one thing can be said for sure about Nebraska: corn is our mainstay, and our livelihood depends on it. Not only does it feed millions of people across the nation and around the globe, as well as our livestock, corn is also a component in more than 3,500 products – from aspirin to shaving cream and from latex paint to disposable diapers – with more products being developed every day.

Helping to find new uses for corn is part of the Nebraska Corn Board's mission. Its record of success includes support for the livestock industry, the number one customer for Nebraska corn; leadership in the development of the ethanol industry; identifying and growing domestic and foreign export markets for Nebraska corn; and research into new uses for corn, including the successful development of corn-based plastics.

Conveying this mission is critical, which is one reason why the Nebraska Corn Board underwrites on NET Radio. "Radio in general is an excellent opportunity to connect with rural listeners, especially during planting and harvesting time," says Corn Board Executive Director Don Hutchens. "And public radio listeners are particularly well-informed, with access to accurate information. With the recent spate of misinformation about the corn and ethanol industry, we appreciate when the facts are presented accurately, so that listeners and consumers are not misinformed."

NET Radio Listeners Are All Ears

Through underwriting you can reach the more than 109,000 Nebraskans statewide who tune in to NET Radio every day. For more information, visit netNebraska.org/members (and click on "Ways to Support NET"), or call Susan Dinsmore at 800.634.6788, ext. 371.

Newsy Days, Jazzy Nights

Just a reminder: NET Radio now offers an additional service (or program stream) in the Lincoln area that we're calling HD-2. It is also available to listen to live online, as is our main service. HD-2's schedule includes many unique programs not heard on our main service, with NPR news throughout the day and jazz at night. Visit netNebraska.org/radio to listen online and for more information about HD-2.

Not Your Garden-Variety Donor

Kenneth Good's passion for plants, trees and flowers bloomed at a young age.

Born in Peru, Nebraska, Kenneth Good grew to love the landscape there, and spent much of his time as a young boy outdoors, amongst the hills, woods and rivers near his home. Later he moved to Lincoln, graduated with a degree in Agricultural Science from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, and went on to work for more than 30 years as a soil scientist with the U.S. Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service.

Ken's love of the land didn't end with the workday. His greatest pleasure was puttering alongside his Basenji dogs in his backyard garden, which brimmed with peonies, daylilies and iris. In his retirement years he was an active member of the Lincoln Garden Club and often opened his own garden for tours.

A budding philanthropist

Ken met weekly for coffee with his friends from the Soil Conservation Service, and the group was known to tease their friend occasionally for his frugal ways. What they didn't know, though, was that Ken was actually a generous philanthropist who had planned his will carefully to benefit several causes close to his heart.

When Ken Good died in 2008 at the age of 92, his estate bequeathed gifts to his church, the Lincoln Garden Club, the Masonic Home of which he'd been a member since 1947, the UNL Garden Friends and NET Television and NET Radio.

Planting the seed for future programs

As a longtime and loyal member of both organizations, Ken particularly enjoyed NET Radio's Big Band Spotlight and the nightly news programs on NET Television. He bequeathed $10,000 to each organization's permanent endowment, where it will support programming in perpetuity.

"Ken Good was a faithful friend of NET for many years, and we are so honored that he remembered us in his estate plans," says Michele Peón-Casanova, director of major and planned giving at NET. "His gift is truly the seed that will blossom into countless hours of educational programs for all Nebraskans."

Your Gift Will Blossom into a Legacy

Gifts to NET's permanent endowment are an integral part of our long-term fundraising strategy. It is this support that will enable Nebraska public broadcasting to thrive not only today, but tomorrow, too...and for generations to come.

Like Ken Good, you, too, can impact Nebraskans by ensuring that what you love and respect about NET Television and NET Radio will last for generations to come. NET's planned giving professionals are happy to provide information about many different opportunities. Feel free to contact one of us today:

Estate Planning is Smart Planning

Even if making an outright cash gift to your favorite charity is not possible right now in these difficult economic times, smart estate planning allows you to support the causes you feel most strongly about, while also ensuring you have the means to sustain your standard of living.

As summertime picnics and road trips entice you, the last thing you may want to think about right now is estate planning. But there's no better time to delve into these details than when you are healthy and relaxed. Getting your affairs in order now will provide peace of mind and the security of knowing that this is one less task you will have to worry about in the future.

Make a Memorial Gift

Memorial gifts to NET Television and NET Radio are a lasting legacy in honor of your loved one's commitment to public broadcasting. We are grateful that gifts have been made recently in memory of the following individuals:

Larry Arter

Viola Navy

Louise Hennings

Harvin Oorlog

Marcia Miller

Robert Westlake

For more information about how to make a memorial gift, please contact Dawn Amory at 800.634.6788 or damory@netNebraska.org.

Out & About

HOMEMADE ASTRONAUT: THE CLAY ANDERSON STORY

A Star-Studded Event

Susan Anderson and Sue Maryott

Robin Bates and Clay Anderson

Chip Davis, Allen Beermann, Jeff Raikes (CEO of the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation), Rod Bates (NET General Manager) and Lee Sapp

Nebraska astronaut Clay Anderson inspired more than 500 supporters of NET Television and NET Radio to shoot for the stars at the 2009 Governor's Premiere, which was held Saturday, April 25, at the Strategic Air and Space Museum in Ashland.

Guests enjoyed a buffet dinner beneath the wings of historic aircraft in the museum's hangar, while they watched a preview of the NET Television original documentary Homemade Astronaut: The Clay Anderson Story.

Jeff Raikes, CEO of the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, served as honorary chair of the event, and spoke about his longtime friendship with Anderson, including some humorous stories of their escapades growing up together in Ashland.

Clay Anderson spoke movingly about his personal journey, from dreamy-eyed child in Nebraska to his current role as a United States astronaut. He thanked many influential people who impacted him along the way, including teachers in Ashland and at Hastings College and Iowa State University, and family members, especially his wife, Susan, and children, Cole and Sutton.

Special thanks go to the Governor's Premiere Committee: Roger Larson, Chair; Allen Beermann and Lieutenant General Roger Lempke.

Omaha

PBS' Sid the Science Kid greeted fans and their parents at the Omaha Children's Museum on April 18 as part of the museum's Week of the Young Child festivities.

NET at Fontenelle Forest

More than 1,500 kids and parents attended Spring Free Family Day on April 19 at Fontenelle Forest, where they visited NET's booth to explore the new NET Kids Web site. NET gave away USB bracelets loaded with PBS Kids games and activities.

Dr. William and Sharon Griffin and Harold and Marian Andersen hosted Colin Campbell, former Chairman of the PBS Board and current president and CEO of the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation, along with 50 guests for an intimate gathering in the Griffin's home in April.

150 guests enjoyed the enchanting sounds of Andre Rieu and his Johann Strauss Orchestra along with worry-free transportation to the Qwest Center on May 25 as part of a membership pledge package.

Nearly 4,000 SuperWhy! fans flocked to Elmwood Park Pavilion on May 31 to meet Whyatt and celebrate the Omaha Public Libraries' Summer Reading Program Kick-Off. Kids also enjoyed meeting Whyatt at the Omaha

Andre Rieu

Children's Museum's SuperWhy! Super Reader's Festival on June 13.

Hastings

NET Radio fans enjoyed Friday Live at the Blue Moon Coffee Company on June 19 and then later took in the modern jazz sounds of Bill Wimmer Project Omaha at the Cottonwood Festival. NET Radio was the media sponsor of the Cottonwood Festival.

Lincoln, Grand Island & Scottsbluff

Garrison Keillor groupies enjoyed a free screening of the documentary Garrison Keillor: The Man on the Radio in the Red Shoes in June. Members used their NET MemberCard for free admission to screenings at NET, the Stuhr Museum and the Midwest Theatre.

Kearney & Alliance

NET legend Ron Hull explored five decades of colorful history when he presented the film 50 Years of Nebraska's Faces and Places for guests at the Museum of Nebraska Art in March and at the Knight Museum and Sandhills Center in July.

Tap your toes to these performance specials, coming this August on NET Television. Plus, don't miss the broadcast premiere of Walk Ons: Huskers' Edge (see page 4 for details) and Great Scenic Railway Journeys.

Walk Ons: Huskers' Edge

Don't miss the broadcast debut of this original NET Television special about the history of the Huskers' renowned walk-on program.

Great Scenic Railway Journeys

All aboard for a chance to explore some of North America's steam railways. Become a member of NET and enjoy two tickets for a special three-course dinner and a trip through Elkhorn Valley in October aboard the Fremont Dinner Train, plus a DVD, guidebook and more. This special member package is $300. Pledge during the August show; visit netNebraska.org (and click on the "Support NET" button) or call 800.634.6788.

Motown: The Definitive Performances

This special focuses on archival hits and rare interviews from five Motown Legends: The Temptations, The Four Tops, Smokey Robinson & The Miracles, Diana Ross & The Supremes and Marvin Gaye.

Get Down Tonight – The Disco Explosion

Revisit the disco years with live performances from the legends of the lighted dance floor, including KC & The Sunshine Band ("That's The Way I Like It," "Get Down Tonight"), The Trammps ("Disco Inferno"), Yvonne Elliman ("If I Can't Have You"), Tavares ("More Than A Woman") and more.

Great Performances: Pete Seeger's 90th Birthday Concert from Madison Square Garden

Joining Pete Seeger for a once-in-a-lifetime concert in celebration of his milestone birthday are Bruce Springsteen, John Mellencamp, Arlo Guthrie, Joan Baez, Kris Kristofferson, Richie Havens, Emmylou Harris, Roger McGuinn, Ani DiFranco, Taj Mahal, Ben Harper, Peggy Seeger, Dave Matthews and many others who perform songs inspired by his music and activism.

The Big Band Years

Peter Marshall (of the legendary Hollywood Squares) hosts this special, which mixes vintage live, rare and unreleased footage from the Big Band era.
